B The 1980 Homecoming game was the brightest of the season for the mighty Falcons. The activities began on Thursday night with the crowning of the King and Court. Gary Cline was chosen King and was accompanied by his court of senior, Dan Fulk, junior, Dan Folks, sophomore, Steve VanGilder, and freshman, John Teeple. The activities continued Friday night with the crowning of Queen Cheryl Strine. Her court included senior, Jamie Gossett, junior, Lisa Dipzinski, sophomore, Darla Jarvis, and freshman, Chris Shambaugh. The evening ended with a terrific game with the Falcons whooping the Dalton Bulldogs 29 to 8. At the festivities on Saturday night, music was provided by the Mobile Music Man.

You Can't Take It With You

This year's fall play was "You Can't Take It With You," a three-act comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufman.

The play centers around the zany escapades of the Sycamore family. This family allows ballet lessons, xylophones, snakes, and drunken actresses in the living room, not to mention fireworks in the basement. Nevertheless, they take things as they come and live life to the fullest.

The play was presented on November 14th and 15th under the direction of Mrs. Judith Ream with the assistance of student director Renee VanGilder.

A: Tony Kirby (Harry Yeater) proposes to Alice (Shawn Steele as Grandpa Matt Dyer) Jackson. B: Boris K. Lenkhov (Joe Ferroni) introduces the Grand Duchess Olga (Katrina Jensen Herby) to the family. C: G-Man (Joe Goss) takes charge of Mr. Depinna (Dan Baker), while his assistant (Keith Murray) takes care of the drunken Guy Wellington (Kim Bartter).

A. Grandpa greets Mr. and Mrs. Kirby (Mark Harned and Dawn Main) as Alice, Tony, and Penny (Rene Conrad) looks on. B. The servants, Donald (Darren Hoover) and Rheba (Denise Conrad), serve dinner to Penny as Paul (Nick McGovern) and Mr. Henderson (Jeff Hines) watch. C. Penny and Essie (Kate Bartter) curtsey at the entrance of the Grand Duchess. D. Essie takes a ballet lesson from Mr. Kolenkhov, while Ed (Greg Butdorf) accompanies her on the xylophone.

Ten Little Indians

The spring play for 1981 was "Ten Little Indians" a full-length mystery by Agatha Christie.

The story centers around a mysterious house on an island off the coast of England. Eight guests are invited for a weekend visit, and they soon meet the two servants who were already on the island, and then there were ten. As they are gathered in the living room they hear a mysterious voice that accuses each one of them of committing murder. One by one they are killed off in a bizarre fashion which fits in with the nursery rhyme, and one by one the wooden Indians disappear from the mantle. Which one is the murderer. The last action-packed scene reveals his identity.

The play was directed by Mrs. Judith Ream with the assistance of her student director Rene Conrad.

A high-contrast, black and white close-up photograph of a person's face. The face is almost entirely covered by a dense, repeating pattern of the word "CLASSES" in a bold, sans-serif font. The letters are white with a black outline, creating a stark contrast against the dark background. The pattern is most prominent on the right side of the face, with the word "CLASSES" repeated numerous times in a grid-like fashion. The left side of the face is mostly in shadow, with only the bridge of the nose and a small portion of the cheek visible through the grid. The overall effect is one of digital manipulation or a conceptual artistic statement.

The largest turnout in the history of Cross Country ran for the Falcons with 17 boys and girls participating. The squad was led by seniors Ben Steere and Kurt Garrison. As the season progressed the Falcon squad began to gel. For the second straight year the team brought home the runner-up trophy in the Wayne County Invitational Meet and the girls section finished 7th, 10th, and 11th individually. The squad was relatively young with many underclass runners returning. Prospects for the 1981 season look good. The key to 1981 will be the extra running by the veterans.

State Tournament (Semi finals)

Hillsdale 2 Portsmouth Clay 7

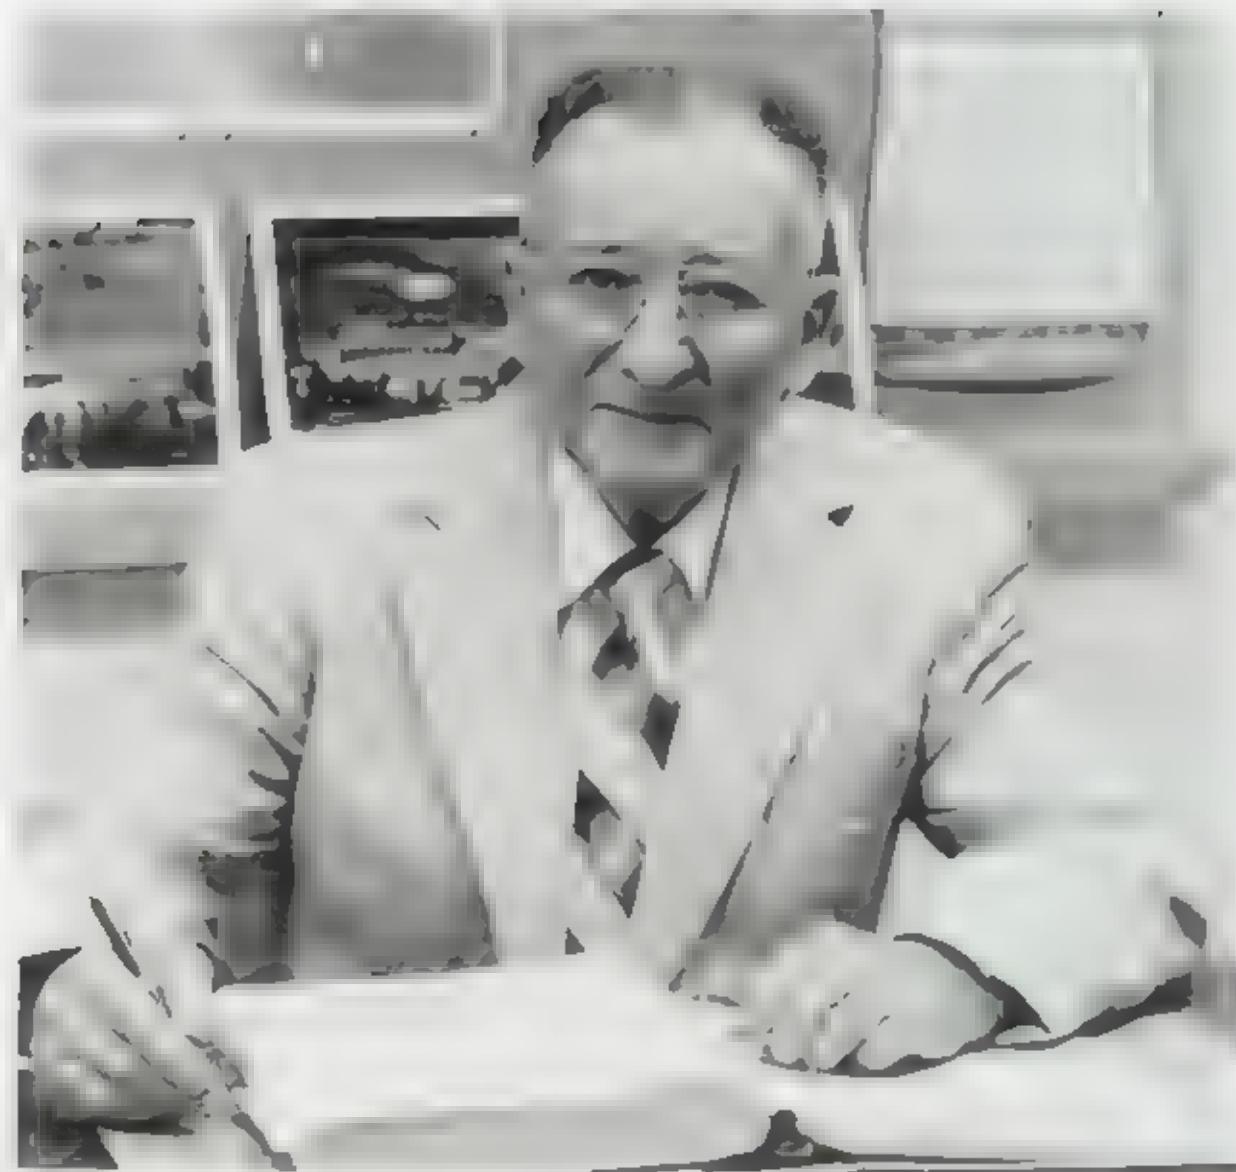

After capturing the District and Regional Championships for 1981, the Falcons just ran out of steam in the State Semi-Finals and were defeated by Portsmouth Clay 7-2.

This was the final game for five seniors, Sondra Applegate, Diann Denney, Pam Gilbert, Susie Hardy and Tonya McKinley. These girls were initial members of the first girls' softball team at Hillsdale High School and helped that team establish a splendid four-year record: in 1978 they were State Runner-Ups, in 1979 they were State Champs, in 1980 they were defeated in the Regionals and this year, 1981 once again they made it all the way to the State Semi-Finals before being defeated. Ending the season in the top four out of one hundred thirty five teams in the state of Ohio isn't bad.

In Memory Of . . .

Mr. James Tallmadge

Clerk-treasurer of Hillsdale School District for 28 years

Crossing the Bar

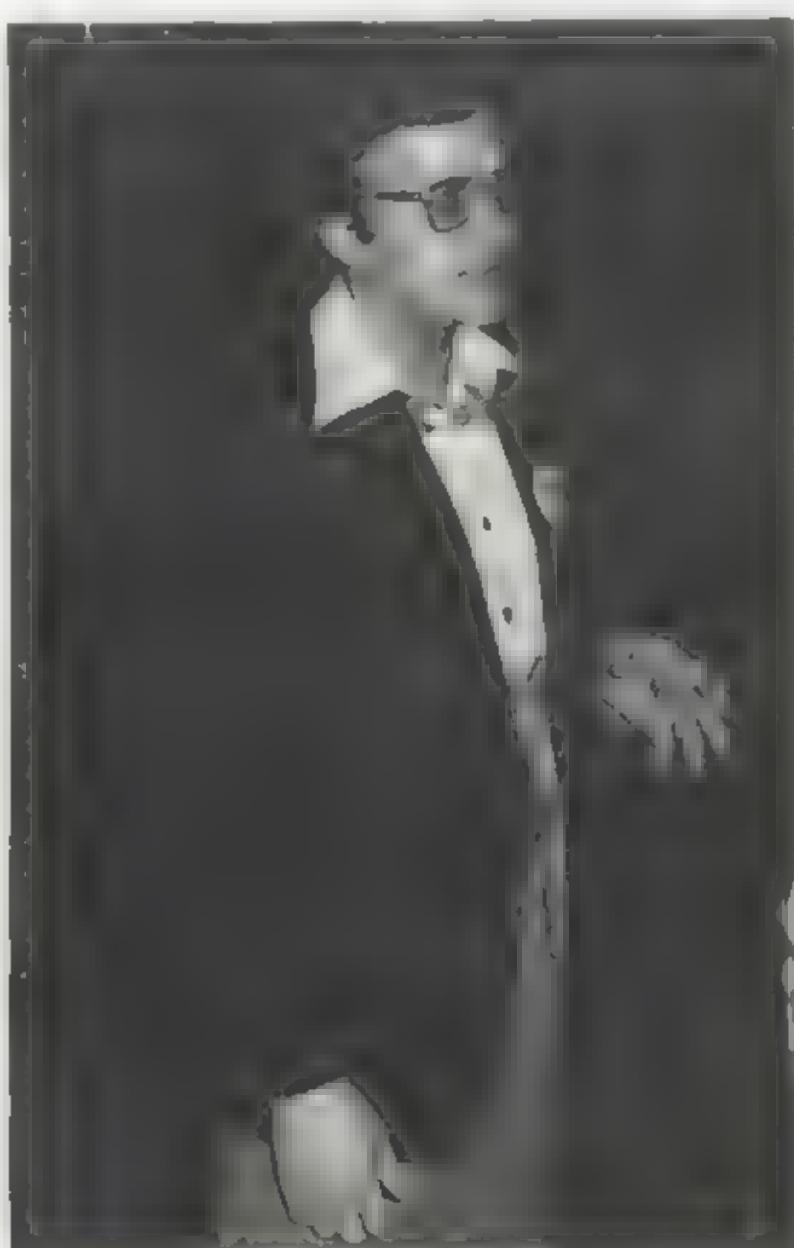

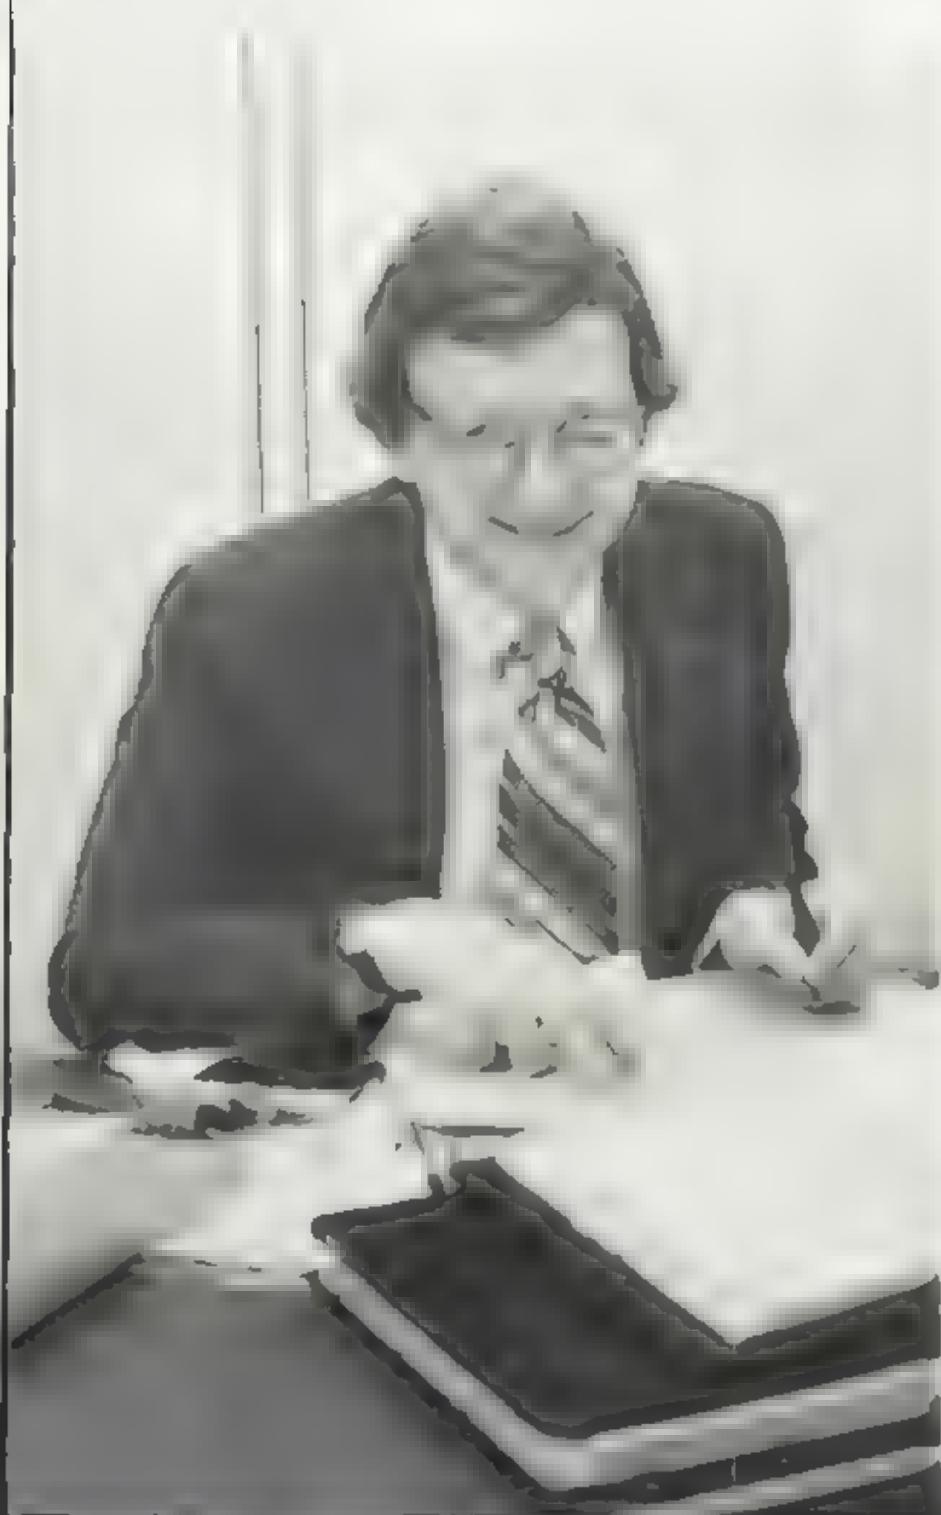

Sunset and evening star;
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

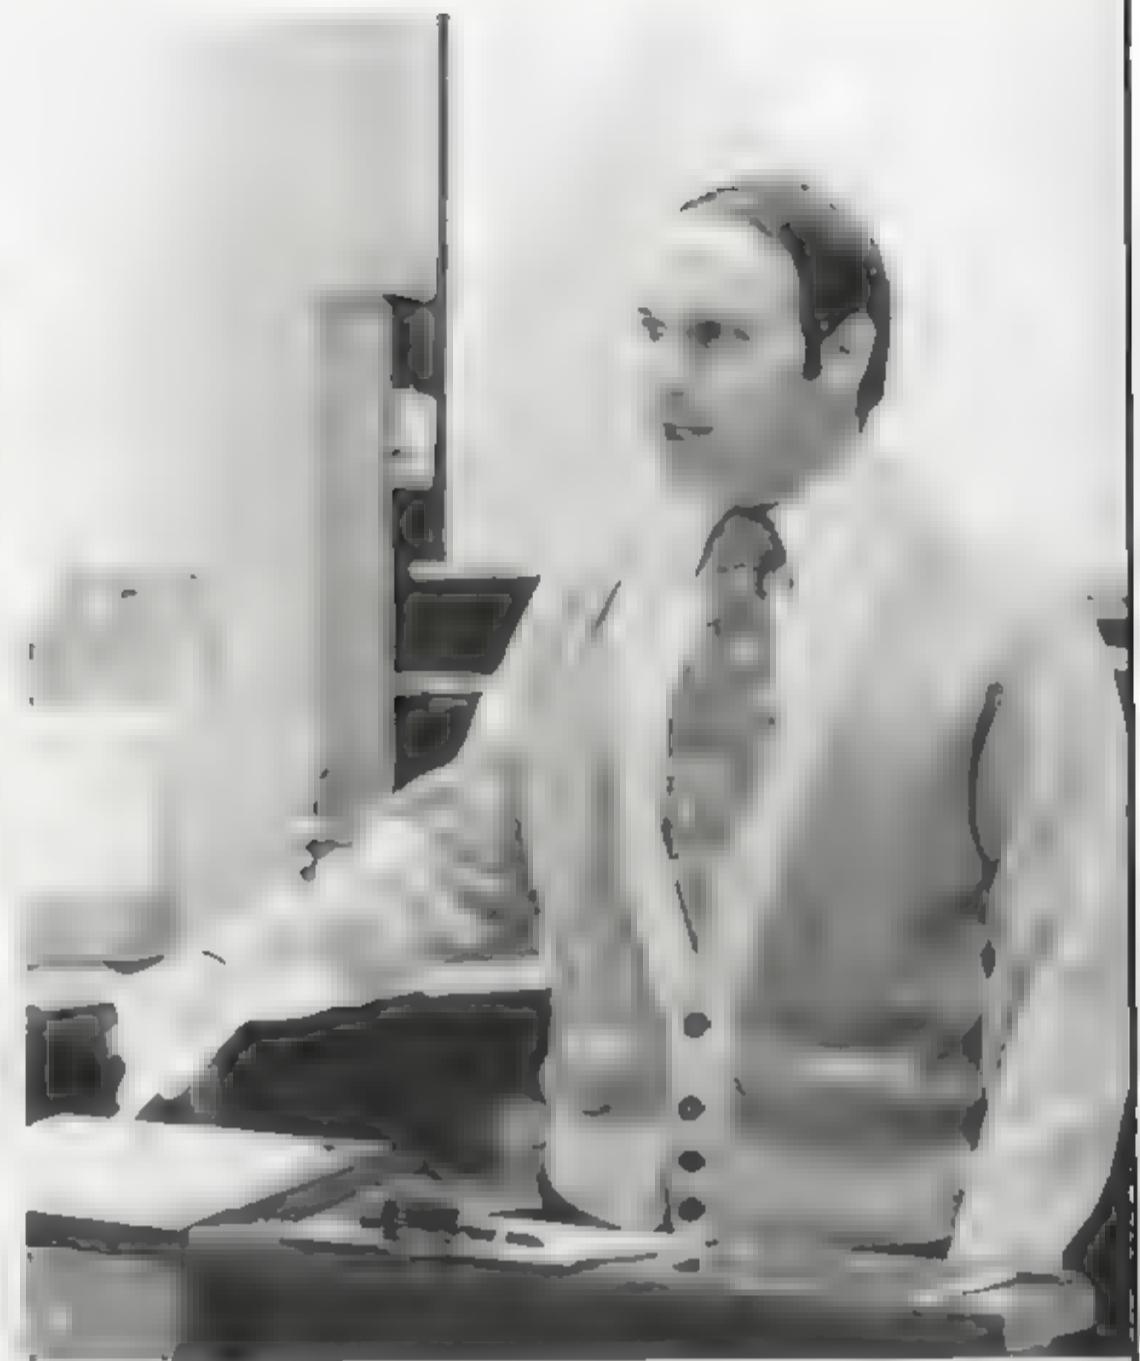

For though from out
our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far
I hope to see my Pilot
face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

French Club

In November, all French members took part in a money making project by selling Christmas decorations.

In December, club members sponsored a "Secret Santa" project. The students became the Secret Santas for school personnel. Each day they gave a small gift to each faculty member, and on Friday the Secret Santas revealed their identities.

The French Students held a French Festival consisting of songs, dances, skits, puppet shows, recitations, and displays.

Students traveled to Kent State University in March to compete in Foreign Language Day activities.

Band

The Hillsdale Marching Band began its busy year by presenting a concert at the Brookside Band Shell and by marching at the Ohio State Fair. During the fall they provided both pregame and halftime entertainment at all football games, marched at the Ashland County Fair and in the Ashland Christmas parade, and concluded the season by challenging and defeating the Loudonville Marching Band 58-22 in a flag football game.

Concert season was just as demanding on the musicians with a Christmas Concert in December and a Winter Concert and Solo and Ensemble Contests in February.

Twenty-seven members participated in the contests and received 14 Superior rating.

Spring came in with the band receiving a II rating at contest at Malabar on March 21 and moved right along with the band presenting a sparkling Spring Concert in May at which awards were presented. The group ended the season and the school year with a final concert performance at Graduation and a marching performance in the Memorial Day Parade.
